

Biocontrol Workshop

March 22nd, 9:00am @Landcare Research,
Gate10 Silverdale Rd, Hamilton

9:30am - 12:00pm - Lynley Hayes will outline how New Zealand has already benefitted from the release of natural born weedkillers, share secrets to success, provide reassurances about safety, and consider the future outlook. She will also explain how people can get involved and discuss projects of interest in more detail e.g. tradescantia, privet, Japanese honeysuckle. This is a talk with everything – a cast of thousands, fascinating science, interesting creatures, a little bit of smut, a sprinkling of economics, and tales of joy and despair!

12:30pm - 3:30pm - Field trip with Ben Wolf and Hamish Hodgson to see bioagents in action, with opportunity to collect and release at your own sites! RSVP to waikatobiodiversity@gmail.com to secure a spot!
